The side with the fanciest uniforms loses.

When both sides are convinced that they are about to lose, they are both right.

Professional soldiers are predictable, but the world is full of amateurs.

Friendly fire isn't.

Recoilless rifles aren't.

Suppressive fire won't.

Interchangable parts aren't.

Guided missiles aren't.

Perfect plans aren't.

Every command which can be misunderstood, will be.